XI. Winnipeg.

Mr. Brown called just as I was competing my last entry. And he had been here almost ever since.

At first I was a little uneasy, for I was not at all sure that he would know how to act—one never can tell what these unconventional Canadians are going to do. But he really was good and kind, and his unconventionalality is not of the embarrassing kind. He usually comes laden with magazines and chocolates, and twice he has called with a motor-car and taken Mary and me for a spin around the city.

Next week a party of us are going to visit the Agricultural College. A friend of Mary's who is attending the Normal School will be there. Each teacher is required to take a monthly course in Agriculture and Domestic Science before she is granted her certificate. I should prefer to see the college when the requirements are in session, but even this Teachers' Course will be interesting. I am sure, and I shall at least see the buildings and grounds. Mr. Brown is to be of the party, so the stock is sure to be properly introduced.

And in ten days I again leave Winnipeg. I am almost excited, and no wonder, for my destination is the Hingham ranch. Is it luck, or fate, or Providence, I wonder?

"Funny, bless her heart, opened the subject."

"Mother," she said one day after an unusually long silence, "why can't Miss Elliot come home with us?"

"Miss Elliot would not care to go so far away from her friends, dear," Mrs. Hingham replied. "Perhaps she and Mary can come out next summer, and we'll have a home-party for them and give them a really good time. It would be too quiet and lonely for her at the ranch now."

Then she turned to me. "I am dreading the winter, my dear," she said. "My husband and Sunny and I always take a home in Canada for the winter months, but this year my dear friend wants me to stay at the ranch and five outside at night. I am sure I have not been very well, and he does not think that I shall be enough fresh air and sunshine in the town."

"You should try," Mrs. Arnold said. "I suggested Mrs. Arnold."

"I did think of sending to England for Jack's sister," Mrs. Hingham continued, "but I know she would spend the winter at home."

"Oh! I almost forgot a very important bit of news," Mrs. Hingham said in the day one day last week and he called on Mrs. Arnold. I suppose Mrs. Elliot gave him the address.

And that reminds me that I have had a long letter from Sunny. She tells me that they all miss me—and that Jeanne has not yet a young man already. I was happy.

Oh! I almost forgot a very important bit of news."

Do You Know a Sunfish When You See It?

THE Sunfish is a member of the Globefish family and Pimble learned this after his wonderful play and rest among the rocks that had been uncovered by the low tide. When he learned all this, he was very much interested in this concerning Hermit Crab. What a good time he had had! He hated the mere thought of leaving the place, and yet he had to. He came at last the tide was coming in—just as you know. It does every twelve hours just as it goes out again after the same lapse of time. So, tide coming in and Pimble's performance going out, he naturally was on the lookout for new things to learn about. He had watched Hermit Crab until he really was tired, and that is unusual for any Brownie. He had seen that crab about nothing which they are always more than anxious and willing to do, and he had seen them battle about the homes they lived in, had lived in or were wanting to live in. Such fights! He had seen some of them terribly wounded and torn in half, while the victors triumphantly took possession of the empty shells; and he had seen other things, too, and out of them he remembered one of once when he had been on Fifth Avenue, in New York City, and when looking in a shop window had looked at the beautiful and very beautiful painted and landscaped that for a moment as he gazed at it, he almost thought himself beyond the city limits and far away near the ocean. In any case, he wished himself there, and thought of birds and birds and flowers and waters and fish and reefs.

He was leaning against some rocks overlooking a patch of water which he could directly reach, and right there, where he could so directly see them, a whole school of Sunfish were lazily basking and swimming in the unwarmed waters. They went around and around, none of them hurrying and one of them lagging behind the others; and Pimble, who in spite of being full of mischief, was just as full of love of the unusual and beautiful, could hardly breathe; he was far too busy looking! It was almost exactly like the design on the beautiful Japanese screen that he remembered.

When thinking of Sunfish we are very apt to make mistakes. We often order Sunfish from the fish dealers when we should say Sunfish. A real Sunfish is almost round in shape and has two long and pointed handle-like fins toward the rear of the body. It is plain and shines with phosphorescent light, and for this reason is often called Headlamp and Moonfish. It is not very hard to eat, and the Panfish that we wrongly call Sunfish are delicious and much in demand.

"DR. FOWLER'S"

Saved The Lives Of Four Children

Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, infantum and summer complaint are responsible for more deaths, especially among children, during the summer months than any other form of disease. According to statistics, in the City of Toronto alone, in the past five years out of 1,000 deaths of children from diarrhoea, 757 died during the four summer months. If therefore, between every mother to look after her children on the first sign of any of these diseases, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved the lives of four of many children when all other remedies failed. It stopped the vomiting and the terrible diarrhoea with which they were troubled. I will always recommend it, and now always have a bottle on hand in case of emergency.

Price, 50¢ a bottle; put up only by Dr. T. M. Albion Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Another Thing
The benevolent man expelled a little too weeping, and said to her: "Now is a good time to buy and cry crying."

The child replied, "I can't."

"Well, here's a penny. Tell me why you can't be a good boy?"

"'Cause I'm a girl."

They will speedily rid a child of worms and restore the health of the little sufferers whose vitality has been impaired by the attacks of these internal pests.

Measuring Electricity Method Is Same As Used In Measuring Water

The language of the electrician is Greek to most people. While he talks gibberish of volts and amperes and watts, they know only that they have to pay an electric light bill for so many units, and let it go at that.

Though electricity is not a fluid, most of its terms can be compared with water flowing through a pipe.

In the case of electricity, however, the rate at which it flows is measured in amperes and its pressure in volts. The work which it will do is found by multiplying amperes and volts together, which gives the answer in watts, or units of energy.

The unit is 1000 watts, often called a kilowatt, which is the electrical equivalent of one horsepower.

You will find the number of watts they require engraved on most electric lamps, and from this you can discover what they will cost to use.

A 25-watt lamp will use one unit of 1000 watts in forty hours burning.

The aim is another electrical instrument which can be understood by a comparison with water. Water flows easily through a large pipe, but if the pipe is narrow, only a small quantity can force its way through.

What the pipe is to water, the wire is to electricity. The smaller the wire, the more difficult electricity will find it to pass, because the fine wire resists its flow. Wires are measured by their resistance in ohms.

Durable Roman Roads

Portions Being Unearthed Compare Favorably With Modern Highways

In the third century the Roman rulers of England made a road which ran from Dover to London, and then northward to York and Newcastle, with branches leading to Chester and Carlisle.

They made it so, well, laid its foundation on limestone, that a piece of it that has been uncovered in Hertfordshire is pronounced by the county and road surveyors to be as good as any highway today.

"Give it an asphalt surface, he says, and it would compare favorably with the best of modern roadways.

What a tribute to the work of those Roman road makers! What an encouragement to all who are trying to do the faithful, durable work in any direction.

Waiting Street was used for centuries, then its surface began to be covered up by the dust of ages. It fell into disuse. It was covered by mud, and disappeared even from local memory.

But wherever a piece of it is unearched, it is happening now in Hertfordshire, there are the foundations firm and undisturbed by the centuries that have passed. Hmest endures, putting the best of use into the day task, never loses its value.

Exchange in Europe

Humorous as well as remarkable are some of the stories of the fluctuations of exchange in European money.

An Englishman on his way from Germany to Switzerland bought a bottle of wine for four francs in the Austrian Tyrol. After drinking the wine he kept the bottle, and on crossing the Swiss border, sold it for fifty cents.

A Swiss fifty centime piece is worth 700 Austrian crowns, so that the Englishman not only got his wine for nothing, but made 280 crowns.

The United States post office uses one hundred of these every year, enough to circle the earth 20 times.

Elephants never recover from pneumonia.

YOUR STARVED NERVES

The Cause of Neuralgia—Must be Treated Through the Blood

Neuralgia is the cry of the nerves for more and better blood. It means that the nerves are being starved. Like every other part of the body, the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood.

There is therefore no doubt that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will prove beneficial even in extreme cases of neuralgia. These pills increase and enrich the blood supply, carrying to the nerves the elements they need, thus driving away the sharp, torturing pains which now drive the sufferer wild.

The benefit given by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the case of Miss Carrie W. Fletcher, Ramothville, Ont., who says:—"As the result of a severe wetting I got quite ill. It is now many years since I was attacked with neuralgia, from which I suffered night after night. Although the pain diminished somewhat, I began to tire in other ways. My appetite was poor. I got thin and had no energy. Indeed, I was becoming a wreck of my former self. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I cannot remember more than that I followed the advice, for they have restored me to my old-time strength. I cannot recommend the pills too highly, and hope other persons in poor health will find them a fair trial."

You can get your pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box of six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dog Receives Decoration

Saved Lives of Ninety-Two Persons in Steamship Wreck

A fine collar with cross attached has arrived at St. John, N.B., for "Hero," a Newfoundland dog, owned by Wm. Orr, of that city, in recognition of his saving ninety-two lives in the wreck of the steamship Ethio, on December 10, 1919, off the coast of Newfoundland.

The dog swam through the big waves, taking a line from shore to the ship and by means of this a heavier line was put aboard and all saved.

The collar and cross are from the St. John's Cross of Philanthropy. Mayor McEllen has exempted "Hero" from the local dog tax.

Four cars are already on their way to the Atlantic coast.

Most Travelled Woman

Has Penetrated Portions of South Africa Unexplored

Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, of Edinburgh, is the most travelled woman of today, according to the Royal Geographical Society. She has just returned from a protracted sojourn in the South Sea Islands. In 1910 Mrs. Cameron covered 10,000 miles in South Africa. Later she continued her exploration of the dark continent, completely circumnavigating it and penetrating portions hitherto unknown even to explorers and scientists. During the war, when most of the world was closed to travel, Mrs. Cameron spent much time in Alaska. During the past three years she has been in South America, Australia and the South Sea.

McMurray Tar Sands

Shipment Sent to Britain to Undergo Extensive Tests

A car of the McMurray tar sands has been shipped to Swansea, Wales, this being the culmination of 18 months of research by General Lindsay's chemists in London, Eng. A variety of tests have been made in England in addition to which processes for the extracting of oil from the bitumen have been studied in both France and Germany, and it is hoped that the experiments on the new carload will be successful and result in more extensive developments.

To Holders of Five Year 5½ per cent Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued in 1917 and Maturing 1st December, 1922.

CONVERSION PROPOSALS

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers to holders of these bonds who desire to continue their investment in Dominion of Canada securities the privilege of exchanging the maturing bonds for new bonds bearing 5½ per cent interest, payable half yearly, of either of the following classes:—

- (a) Five year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1927.
- (b) Ten year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1932.

While the maturing bonds will carry interest to 1st December, 1922, the new bonds will commence to earn interest from 1st November, 1922, GIVING A BONUS OF A FULL MONTH'S INTEREST TO THOSE AVAILING THEMSELVES OF THE CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.

This offer is made to holders of the maturing bonds and is not open to other investors. The bonds to be issued under this proposal will be substantially of the same character as those which are maturing, except that the exemption from taxation does not apply to the new issue.

Holders of the maturing bonds who wish to avail themselves of this conversion privilege should take their bonds AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE, BUT NOT LATER THAN SEPTEMBER 30th, to a Branch of any Chartered Bank in Canada and receive in exchange an official receipt for the bonds surrendered, containing an undertaking to deliver the corresponding bonds of the new issue.

Holders of maturing fully registered bonds, interest payable by cheque from Ottawa, will receive their December 1 interest cheque as usual. Holders of coupon bonds will detach and retain the last unexpired coupon before surrendering the bond itself for conversion purposes.

The surrendered bonds will be forwarded by banks to the Minister of Finance at Ottawa, where they will be exchanged for bonds of the new issue, in fully registered, or coupon registered or coupon bearer form carrying interest payable 1st May and 1st November of each year of the duration of the loan, the first interest payment accruing and payable 1st May, 1923. Bonds of the new issue will be sent to the banks for delivery immediately after the receipt of the surrendered bonds.

The bonds of the maturing issue which are not converted under this proposal will be paid off in cash on the 1st December, 1922.

W. S. FIELDING,
Minister of Finance.

Dated at Ottawa, 8th August, 1922.

GOOD INTEREST AND ABSOLUTE SECURITY

A liberal rate of interest with absolute security is the attractive offer made by the Minister of Finance to holders of the Canadian Government war loan bonds maturing December 1, 1922. The offer is not made to investors generally, but only to the holders of the bonds soon to mature. The bonds are retired, bearing interest of five and one-half per cent., will be exchanged for new bonds bearing increased interest. The advertisement of the Minister of Finance.

During the first six months of 1922, the municipal hospitals of the province handled 129 more patients than during the first six months of last year, with an increase of 5223 hospital days over the same period of last year. This is an indication of the manner in which the people of the rural districts are utilizing the services offered by the municipal hospitals. These figures compare with those from the newly established hospitals of Viking and Provost. The returns include those from only 11 hospitals, whereas now there are 13 municipal hospitals in the province and one or two more districts are in process of organization.

Golden Rule and Trade

settles for it, he can't tell the mail-order man that he would like to have a little of his business or a chance to do a little carpenter work or painting or plumbing for him, as long as he is buying his goods from him, for the mail-order man hasn't any business or work to give him. But the picture is a pretty one, so Mr. Consumer dips out his hard earned cash, goes down to the post office, buys a money order and sends it to the mail-order man.

After a week or ten days or possible two weeks, the suit comes. It may be nothing like the picture. The cloth maybe of poor quality. The buttons are that it doesn't matter at all. But there is nothing for Mr. Consumer to do but put the suit on and wear it. He can't get his money back. He might send the suit back and the mail-order man might send another in its place, but the chances are that it wouldn't fit any better than the first one and Mr. Consumer would be out the additional express charge.

Found Golden Rule Pays.

Mr. Consumer found that it pays to remember the Golden Rule in business. If he had done what the merchant as he would like the merchant to do unto him, he would have got more for his money and he would have aided in making it possible for the merchant to help him and his town when they needed help.

The world has discovered that the Golden Rule is not for use only on Sundays, but that it is value on every day of the week.

Golden Rule Has Place In Trade

Has Been Found To Be Good Business Policy Both for Buyer and Seller

Obligation not one-sided

Consumer Gains as Much By Being Fair With Merchant as Latter Does By Being Square And Honest.

Some cynical persons have remarked that the Golden Rule has no place in business. They have taken the position that instead of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you, the only safe and sane plan is to do others before they have a chance to do to you.

Fortunately for business and for the world at large, however, these persons are few and far between. The great majority of people are honest. It has been proven repeatedly that even in business it pays to practice the Golden Rule, just as the same has been proven that "honesty is the best policy." It not only makes a man feel better down in his heart when he employs the principles of the Golden Rule, but he finds that it is good business. This applies not only to the man who stands behind the counter and gives a full pound of sugar to the man who asks for a pound, but to the man who is standing on the other side of the counter and carries his money for that pound of sugar.

Does Consumer do His Part

The consumer expects the merchant to be honest and square and give him his money's worth in return for what he spends with him, but how often does the consumer stop to think himself the question "Am I being as fair and honest with the merchant as he is being with me?" The consumer not only expects the merchant to give him honest weight and full measure at the lowest possible cost, but he expects a world of other things at the same time. Nine times out of ten he expects the merchant to give him credit, and nine times out of ten the merchant does it. Many times he expects the merchant to "carry him for three or four months before he pays for what he buys, and as many times the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to say for advertising space in the church program which he is getting up, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "carry him" most liberally when he is raising a fund for the benefit of the town, and the merchant does it.

He expects the merchant to provide the money which is to be used to obtain a new factory which will benefit everybody else in the town, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "carry him" across with a donation to help the poor family which has been hit by a disaster, and the merchant does it.

Another Side To Picture

Now look on the other side of the picture. Mr. Consumer desires that he needs a new suit of clothes, or Mr. Consumer desires that she wants a new kitchen range, or some other thing. She expresses a desire for a train of cars or a mobiledrome catalogue which the mail-order house has printed with his money or that of others like him, and he looks it over till he finds a picture that catches his eye. It's a picture of a "sniffy" looking suit of clothes. Of course he can't feel the picture to see whether the cloth is as good as it looks; he can't look the mail-order man in the eye and ask him whether he will guarantee it to wear for at least a month or six weeks; he can't look the mail-order man in the eye and ask him whether he will drop in the first of the month and

Intermediate Baseball Championship is Tie

Final May Be Played Strathmore On Monday

In presence of over 1,000 fans, Rocky Ford defeated Carstairs in the second game of the championship finals for intermediate baseball in Alberta held on Monday.

The final score was 8-4 in favor of Rockyford.

It was a real hot game, and well worth going miles to see. There was so much importance attached to the outcome, that the players, as well as the real dyed-in-the-wool supporters of the two clubs, were keyed up to the highest pitch of excitement. The keen rivalry that existed was demonstrated in the second inning, when Brown and Tibball, two of the players, came to blows. That is, what was meant in a hurry happened at second base after Brown had slid into the sack after Tibball tagged him out. There were a couple of real "bombers" planted by both players but they came through the battle unhurt even the four hairs on Downie's mouth surviving the melee.

There were a whole lot of things that gave Rockyford the victory, but the main thing was that they were in a hurry happened at second base after Brown had slid into the sack after Tibball tagged him out. There were a couple of real "bombers" planted by both players but they came through the battle unhurt even the four hairs on Downie's mouth surviving the melee.

Curry did the pitching for Carstairs, but he was away before the form that characterized his performances in the first game. At that, only three of the eight runs scored by Rockyford were earned. The Rockyford league hunter complained of a sore wing in the third inning, but having no capable pitcher he was forced to go the full route.

On the whole, Rockyford played fairly up to base, their fielding being sensational. The infield was particularly good with Bushman at the initial corner excellently. This big fellow fields like a major leaguer, but he appears weak at the hot Six of the Rockyford players divided the twelve hits, with Miller collecting a couple of triples, Murray Smith and Brown got a single and double each.

The location of the deciding game is not settled. Rockyford wants to play in Strathmore, while Carstairs prefers Aeneas. Drumheller is also suggested as a neutral location.

Strathmore or Drumheller would probably draw the bigger crowd, and on any other points. It was felt that Calgary would not yield as good a crowd as any of the other points mentioned.

Hockey Meeting

A well attended meeting of Strathmore hockey and skating enthusiasts met in the Town Hall on Friday evening.

The secretary and auditors reports for 1928-29 were read and accepted. Officers for the coming season are: President—A. B. Foote. Vice-President—Geo. Vengas. Executive Committee: Messrs. Van Duren, May, Fossenden, Lomell and Wright were elected.

Entertainment committee Messrs. W. Gray, Miller and Swanson. Manager Mr. McFarland, Auditor, Mr. Marshall.

A Blot was submitted and accepted after discussion, which showed a very well laid out set of buildings and grounds and money has been raised to go ahead with the work.

The club did not start this year and expect a good season this year as well as having a first class sheet of ice that will be used by the little ones as well as the grown ups.

The rink will be managed by the hockey and skating club and they ask the co-operation of everyone interested in these sports to make it a success.

Strathmore & Langdon 0

Strathmore team has struck a winning streak. They went up to Langdon on Sunday to play a return game and returned with the long-end of a 6-0 score.

The game was a fast and interesting one. Strathmore had the advantage of a new and snappy pitcher, Loucks, who is now employed in the district, and he shut out the Langdonites completely. Only one error was registered throughout the game.

Strathmore team was as follows: Cameron c, Jenkins 1 b, H. Baker 2 b, Vengas c, Brown 3 b, W. Gray 1 f, Russell Payne c, A. Gray 1 f, Loucks pitcher.

Langdon: Miller c, Copeland 2 b, Myers 1 b, McFarlane c, C. Miller c, Olson r, Webb p, C. Miller 3 b, Dale 1 f.

The department of agriculture has commenced investigations respecting the supply of hay to be had in the northern districts. Three men have been sent out and are making daily reports to the department respecting the amount of hay available in the districts inspected. About ten days ago the provincial department requested the minister of the interior to withdraw all permits for cutting hay except for actual settlers for their own use, until such time as a thorough survey of the hay situation has been made by the provincial department of agriculture. This was immediately agreed to by the minister of the interior. Several thousand tons of hay have already been located for the use of actual settlers.

who are in the field. Settlers who desire to put hay for their own use may secure information as to this hay by communication with the department of agriculture, Edmonton.

Who Knows?

How old is a woman when she is no longer young? That question is now bigger and broader than it ever was before. For it is a fact that there are few old women—old in the sense in which they used to be regarded.

Time was, and not so very long ago when a woman was old at forty. Fashion and custom both conspired against her. She must wear a bonnet and shawl. There could be nothing gay in her attire. As the years came after forty, each one gave her something in dress that made her older still, and at fifty, she was in the grandmotherly class with nothing to do but sit in the chimney corner with knitting or fancy work.

Where now can such women be found? There are none. Instead of the bonneted and shawled woman of thirty years ago, you see a daintily gowned woman, wearing a fetching hat, white gloves, short skirts and all the other charming accessories which fashion deems. You have to look twice at her to decide whether she is thirty or fifty, and even then you are not sure. But what is the use of talking about a woman's age. She will not talk about it herself. And after all, she is only as old as she looks.—Hans Herold.

As a result of efforts on the part of A. Chard, freight supervisor for the provincial government, the Dominion Express Company has granted a reduction in the minimum billing weight of fish from northern points in Alberta from 30,000 to 20,000 pounds, which will prove a considerable convenience for the fishing industry.
